Sectoral dialogue committees (1998)

Criteria for the functioning of the SSDC:

- relate to specific sectors or categories, organised at European level
- consist of organisations which are themselves part of Member State's social partner structures; have the capacity to negotiate agreements (mandate of their members); are representative of several Member States
- have adequate structures (capacity) to ensure their effective participation in the work of the committees
Representativeness studies by EUROFOUND

The studies analyse the structure and functioning of the social dialogue at national and European level based. The results aim to identify the European sectoral associations which are representative and therefore can be included in the European sectoral social dialogue.

The last study for the postal sector was published in 2017

Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union
Social Dialogue related obligations

• Freedom of assembly and of association
  Article 6: “The Union recognises the rights, freedoms and principles set out in the Charter of Fundamental Rights of the European Union of 7 December 2000, as adapted at Strasbourg, on 12 December 2007, which shall have the same legal value as the Treaties”

• Right to collective bargaining and action
  Article 28: “Workers and employers, or their respective organisations, have, in accordance with Union law and national laws and practices, the right to negotiate and conclude collective agreements at the appropriate levels and, in cases of conflicts of interest, to take collective action to defend their interests, including strike action”

• Workers' right to information and consultation
  Article 27: “Workers or their representatives must, at the appropriate levels, be guaranteed information and consultation in good time in the cases and under the conditions provided for by Union law and national laws and practices”.
